Cohen's Lottery &amp; Exchange Office.

HOC SIGNO FORTUNA.

BALTIMORE, WEDNESDAY, September 26, 1821.

Owing to the very liberal patronage of the public towards the GRAND STATE LOTTERY of Maryland, very few of the tickets now remain on hand, the Managers and Commissioners are consequently progressing very rapidly with the drawing, which will be soon completed; seven hundred Numbers are drawn at each sitting, which continues TWICE A WEEK. Twelve days are now over—on the 14th, which will take place NEXT WEEK, (Thursday the 4th of Oct.) the first drawn number will be entitled to TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.—Tickets still continue at Ten Dollars, and shares in the same proportion. All orders, whether for whole tickets or shares, will meet the most prompt attention, addressed to

J. I. COHEN, Jr.

Secretary to the Managers—Baltimore.

NUMBER 8.

As we mentioned in our last, this lucky number, which came out the Five Thousand Dollar prize on the 10th drawing, was divided and sold in shares at Cohen's Office—since which we have ascertained the fortunate owners, viz: the Half was held by a lady residing a few miles from town—one Quarter held by a gentleman from Ohio, now on a visit to his friends in this city—one Eighth by an industrious mechanic in Old Town, and the remaining Ninth by a merchant on Bowly's wharf.

Ten Thousand Dollars

is the brilliant premium which will be awarded to the first drawn Number in the grand STATE LOTTERY, on Thursday the 4th of October, (next week.) This splendid Capital is payable in Cash, and which can be had the instant it is drawn, either in Gold, Silver, or Notes of the Bank of the United States. No time should be lost in applying for Tickets or Shares at COHEN'S OFFICE, where more Capital prizes have been obtained than at any other office in America.

The official list of the eleventh and twelfth drawings of the Grand State Lottery, will be found in this day's Register.

Latest from England.

The ship Herald, arrived at Boston from Liverpool, brings London dates to the 18th Aug. The principal subjects of attention there seems to be the Queen's funeral and King's visit to Ireland. The former had caused very considerable excitement. It took place on the 14th ult. and when the procession arrived at Kensington, the multitude showed a disposition to effect a change in the arrangement planned by government. It was not intended, according to information given by Lord Liverpool, that the corpse should pass through the city, and troops were accordingly stationed to carry the proposed plan into effect. This was not acceptable to the people, and obstructions were placed to the progress of the procession, with the idea of compelling it to pass through the city, and thus defeating the plan of his majesty's ministers. Two waggons were drawn across the way and when one of these was removed, it was immediately replaced by another, with continued cries from the people of, "through the city," "through the city." The general cry among the people was, that the royal corpse should pass through the city, amongst the honest body who had all along proved themselves her disinterested friends; and the new mode, of heaping insult upon her dead, who, when living braved her enemies with a firmness which virtue alone can bestow, excited the strongest reprobation. The Life Guards now began to lose their patience, and orders being given to force a way at all events, and the resistance of the people still continuing, in the presence of a magistrate the soldiers were sanctioned in firing upon an unarmed multitude.—Two were killed and several wounded.—Screams of terror were heard in every direction, and numbers were seen flying across the park in dismay. Had it not been that an extensive open space afforded the multitude an opportunity to escape, Hyde-park would have been the scene of a tragedy as dreadful as that of Manchester.

The people, however, succeeded in carrying their point and the procession passed through the heart of the city.

The remains of the queen were embarked at Harwich on board the Glasgow frigate which sailed on the 16th for the Elbe accompanied by several ships of war.

The King made his public entry into Dublin on the 17th of August. It was the most brilliant pageant ever witnessed there. A splendid procession having arrived at the Park, the King entered an open carriage, drawn by eight beautiful horses, led by his grooms, and attended by a numerous train of footmen in magnificent liveries; he was dressed in a full military uniform, decorated with the order and ribbon of St. Patrick. On his left arm he wore a crape. The Dublin Post occupies several columns with a description of the parade through the city.

The sales of cotton at Liverpool, for the week ending Aug 18, were—387 bales Sea Islands, at 13½ to 2s 1d; 1902 bales Upland, at 9 to 10 3-4d; 561 bales Orleans, at 9 1-8 to 12d; and 282 bales Tennessee, at 9 3-8 to 9½d.

In the early part of the week there was a good demand for wheat; but as the weather had become more settled, the request had subsided; prices however remained the same. 1150 bbls. new Philadelphia flour sold during the week at 24s 6d.

Domestic Intelligence.

The Pensacola Floridian gives a detailed account of an unpleasant difference between Gen. Jackson and Col. Callava, the late Governor of Florida. Some papers of importance to establish the claims of individuals, were found to be in possession of a person called Sousa, to whom they had been confided, with other public documents, by Callava. Sousa, on a demand being made for them declined giving them up, and placed them again in Callava's possession; who on a formal demand from Gen Jackson, refused to relinquish them, and was consequently committed to prison, together with Sousa. A commission was then given to several citizens and officers to examine Callava's papers and to take possession of those required, which was done, and the prisoners released. A similar difficulty, with similar results, occurred on taking possession of Louisiana.

American.

A meeting was to have been held in Boston, on Monday, "for the purpose of making such representations to government, in relation to the numerous piracies, on American property, which have recently taken place in the Caribbean sea, and along the Spanish coast of America, as shall induce them to afford to it an immediate and adequate protection."

We are requested to state that there is now established, a weekly mail from Claiborne (Alabama) to Pensacola, at which place Carey Nicholas, Esq. is appointed post-master. The distance between these two places is eighty miles on a very good road. Mails are made up at the post office for Pensacola every Wednesday and Friday.—Charleston Patriot.

The 13th instant, was observed as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, by the citizens of Savannah, for the exemption of that city from pestilence and malignant disease.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Navy Department, Sept. 20th, 1821.

All vessels bound to the West Indies and Gulph of Mexico, that shall rendezvous by the 15th day of October next, in latitude 37 degrees N. and ten leagues east of cape Henry, off the Chesapeake Bay, may have the benefit of the convoy of the United States' ship Hornet and brig Spark.

Duelling.—The manner of duelling in Japan is singular, but quite as rational as an appeal to the sword or pistol. When two men of honor quarrel in that country, the party who conceives himself injured, rips up his own entrails with a large knife, and presenting the instrument to his adversary, invites him to follow his example. No Japanese gentleman can decline such an invitation; for if he does not instantly plunge the knife into his own bowels, he is dishonoured for life.

The mails from England, to the Continent are hereafter to be conveyed by steam-boats. Two vessels with engines of eighty-horse power are building for the Dover station, and are expected to be ready for sea in about six weeks.

The Norfolk papers of September 18, state the fever had greatly relaxed its severity, and promised a speedy restoration to health.—Persons absent are cautioned not to return.

SOMETHING NEW.

One of the most remarkable instances with which we are acquainted of the illusion produced by theatrical exhibitions, occurred in a small town in Maryland, [which one?] several years ago. In the evening of the day on which a militia muster had been held at the town, Othello was performed in a barn by a strolling company of players. A piece of canvass was let down before the door, and a sentinel, one of the train-bands, stationed at it with a loaded musket, in order to prevent a gratuitous gaze from the outside, and the irruption of unruly persons. The man contrived to put his head in from time to time to catch thus the intrigue of the play. He was observed to be occasionally much agitated during the third and fourth acts; but the cause was not suspected. Suddenly, just as the Moor is about to stifle Desdemona, he turned impetuously in, leveled his piece at the actor, and shot him dead, exclaiming with fury, "no d—d negro shall ever murder a white woman in my presence, if I can help it." We have this anecdote from a gentleman who was an eye-witness, and of unquestionable veracity, who attests that tho the poor sentinel was not intoxicated, and had the reputation of good nature and good conduct.
